Project Officer

Served as in-house multimedia designer and communications co-lead for the Canada Centre for Mapping and Earth Observation (CCMEO), contributing to UX and web design, creative direction, and multi-platform engagement initiatives:

- Contributed to the redesigns of the Atlas of Canada and GEO.ca platforms by conducting user research and enhancing navigation, information architecture, visual design, and accessibility, resulting in more intuitive navigation and higher user satisfaction.
- Led GEO.ca's first Community space, acquiring visual assets, iterating on stakeholder feedback, and coordinating launch campaign, boosting site visits, dataset downloads, and contributor engagement.
- Created web banners, social media campaigns, public-facing articles, demo videos, and conference materials, increasing external engagement by 20%.
- Designed internal newsletters, slide decks, announcements, and educational booklets, strengthening cross-divisional alignment and Indigenous community engagement.
- Designed map legends, advised on typography and colour, and assessed accessibility, ensuring printed Atlas of Canada maps were engaging, clear, and inclusive.
- Co-led development of GEO.ca and CCMEO style guides, creating a consistent and unified look and feel for each across digital and print platforms.
- Co-led 2024 Geography Awareness Week event, managing activities, materials, and visuals, doubling engagement and informing future event planning.
